ALLEGHENY MT. AACAs MEMBERS CONVEENE HERE OVER WEEK-END

Twenty-eight members and guests attended the banquet of the Allegheny Mountain region of the Antique Automobile Club of America at the Gettysburg Country club. It was the mid-summer meeting of the regional organization.

On Sunday morning a number of the visitors were taken on a tour of the battlefield, and lunched at the hotel before turning their ancient but well-conditioned vehicles homeward.

Hundreds saw the old cars as they passed through Chambersburg street, Lincoln Square and York street on their way to the L. C. Hamme garage to spend Saturday night, and again on Sunday, when they were parked in the square in front of the hotel while their owners lunched.

Guarded By Police
They formed a nostalgic exhibit of the motor transportation of years ago as they stood, reminiscent of the Glidden tour of 1949, which started here. At the Hamme garage and in the square, they were under police guard.

Twelve of the antique automobiles made the trip here Saturday, ranging from a 1911 Oakland owned and driven by David T. Davis of Cumberland, Md., to a 1925 Sunbeam, the pride of Mr. and Mrs. S. Howard Brown of Grantville, Pa.

Others included the following: Mr. and Mrs. Leslie R. Henry, Havertown, Pa., and their 1915 Model T Ford.

William E. Swigart, Huntingdon, Pa., 1916 Scripps-Booth town car.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Teeter, Gettysburg, 1914 Model T Ford, 1924 Buick and 1928 Model A Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Eckel, Washington, N. J., a 1914 Stanley Steamer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Amick, Cumberland, Md., and son, Miles S. Amick, and a 1920 Oldsmobile.

Thomas C. Marshall, Jr., Yorklyn, Del., 1914 Stanley Steamer.

T. Clarence Marshall, Sr., Yorklyn, Del., 1912 Stanley Steamer.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul W. Morgan, Trenton, Pa., 1922 Pierce Arrow.

William M. Henry, Jr., Greensburg, 1911 Buick.

One Had Car Trouble

Among others present were Elwood Wilkins, "fireman" for T. C. Marshall, Jr.; George Gebert, with Mr. Davis; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cornell, Everett, Pa., who drove a more modern car; Charles Burnard, Yorklyn, "fireman" for T. Clarence Marshall, Sr., and Ralph Weeks, associate editor of the AACAs magazine.

Only one of the old cars had trouble enroute to Gettysburg and none of them while here. Mr. Davis' Oakland was forced to stop in Chambersburg with only three cylinders firing, but Mr. Davis found an ignition wire off, replaced it and continued without further trouble. In one of the "races" at the country club, Les Henry came close to driving into the swimming pool.

At the country club Mr. and Mrs. Teeter, host and hostess for the meeting here, provided an afternoon of unique contests, which included bursting balloons from the cars; carrying a ping-pong ball on a spoon; a contest for women, threading a needle riding in the cars; balancing a bottle on a tray while riding on the running board; a "fisherman and fish" contest, in which a marshmallow was placed on the end of a fishpole and fed to the occupant of another car, and special prizes for children. Refreshments were served.

Banquet At Hotel
The banquet was held at 7:30 o'clock at the Hotel Gettysburg, with Mr. Swigart, president, presiding. The antique car owners were welcomed to Gettysburg by Burgess William G. Weaver, who, with Mrs. Weaver and their daughter, Patty, were dinner guests.

All of the contest prizes were provided by Mr. and Mrs. Teeter. There were "tall story" contests, stories of most interesting experiences, and stories of car trouble to further enhance the informal gathering.

The prizes were awarded by Mrs. Teeter as follows:

Ping-pong ball and spoon contest: David T. Davis, Tom Marshall and Earle Eckel.

Balloon race: Mr. and Mrs. Henry, Charles C. Mellor and William M. Henry, Jr.

Blowout contest: Howard Brown and Tom Marshall.

Threading needle: Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Amick.

Balancing bottle: Howard Brown.

6th Regiment, SUV, Meets In New Oxford

Forty officers and 100 enlisted personnel and visitors attended the quarterly meeting of the 6th Regiment, Infantry, Pennsylvania Department, Sons of Veterans Reserve, held Sunday afternoon at the armory of Company F, South Peters street, New Oxford.

Col. LeRoy Stoudt, Reading, presided at the meeting of the officers. Following the session a supper prepared under the direction of Lt. Arthur L. Weaver, New Oxford R. 1, was served.

"C" company of Middletown and "G" company of Harrisburg with Maj. John H. Runkle, Harrisburg, commanding, performed the guard mount ceremony during the meeting.

Lt. J. E. Snyder, past department SUV commander, and Paul A. Snyder, secretary of the local SUV camp, attended the meeting as did Major (retired) O. G. MacPherson, a member of the Capt. E. M. Ruhl camp No. 33 of York. The next meeting of the regiment will be held in Wilkes-Barre.

3 CANDIDATES IN CONTEST FOR COUNCIL SEATS

Two Democrats and a Republican today announced themselves as candidates for nomination for borough councilmen in the First and Second wards in Tuesday's primary election. Their names do not appear on the ballots, and workers for the candidates will hand out stickers at the polling places.

John W. Fox, Republican, will seek both the Republican and Democratic nominations in the First ward. The other Republican candidate who filed for the position is Councilman Samuel Weiser. Councilman George D. March is the Democratic candidate.

John Millard and James S. Shenk, both Democrats, will seek nomination for council on both party ballots in the Second ward.

They will oppose Councilmen Fred A. Hummelbaugh and J. Calvin Shank at the Republican primary. There are no regular Democratic nominees in the Second ward.

There are no primary contests in the Third ward. Curnal M. Butt and H. M. Oylor, president of the borough council, are the Democratic candidates. The Republican ballot will contain the names of Harry E. Koch and Kenneth W. Johns. Mr. Butt is a former member of the borough council.

Two councilmen are to be nominated in each ward on both the Republican and Democratic primary ballots.

D. D. BASEHOAR, CAR DEALER, DIES

D. D. Basehoar, 72, automobile dealer for many years and a well known resident of Littlestown, died at his home on East King street Saturday evening at 8:40 o'clock, following an illness of about one year.

He was a son of the late George and Louisa Dutera Basehoar. Among the survivors are his wife, Mrs. Anna Shultz Basehoar; one daughter, Mrs. Harry C. Shriver, Bethesda, Md.; one son, John D. Basehoar, Littlestown, and six grandchildren. The following sisters and brothers survive: Mrs. Frances Geiselman, Hanover; George W. Basehoar, Littlestown; Mrs. Louisa Hostetter, Hanover; Mrs. George Rebert, Littlestown, and Mrs. Jenny Wehler, Littlestown.

Mr. Basehoar had been in business in Littlestown for 51 years. He began as a partner in the Basehoar-Mehring hardware store and later owned and operated the Ford garage on East King street, which business he continued to conduct until his illness.

He was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Littlestown, and of the Alpha Fire company No. 1, of that community.

Funeral services Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the J. W. Little and Son funeral home, Littlestown, with his pastor, the Rev. David S. Kammerer, officiating. Interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Hanover.

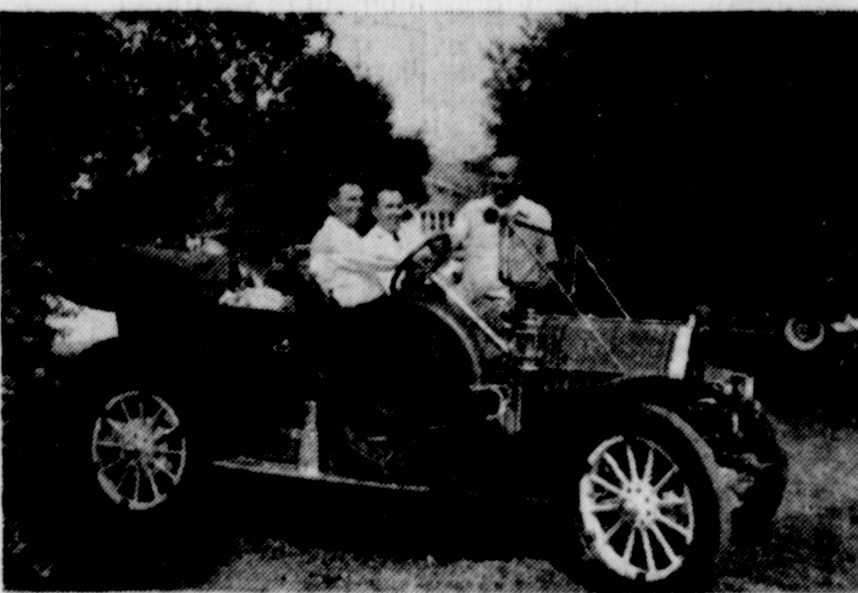

Friends may call at the funeral home this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

TRUCKER FINED $25
Dan Ball, Bamberg, N. C., a truck driver arrested by state police of the Gettysburg substation on an overweight charge Sunday, paid a fine of $25 and costs to Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

75 AT NEARBY PICNIC

Rev. Fr. Herbrich, director of the Catholic Youth Center, Harrisburg, brought 75 members of the sodality to Marsh Creek park Sunday afternoon for an outing. A picnic luncheon was served and the group enjoyed boating, swimming and games.

THREE MISHAPS INVESTIGATED BY TROOPERS

Automobiles operated by Russell W. Taylor, 19, of Flora Dale, and Robert Dean Rutledge, 27, of Arlington, Va., collided at noon Saturday two miles north of Biglerville on the Carlisle road, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

Rutledge started to pass the other car, police said, and Taylor made a left turn in front of him. Damage to the Rutledge car was estimated at $500 and to the Taylor car at $200. A blowout of a truck tire was the cause of an accident at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon on a mile south of York Springs on the Harrisburg road, state police said.

A truck operated by Arthur L. Bender, 28, of Harrisburg, was traveling north when the tire blew out, causing the truck to swerve to the opposite side of the road. An automobile driven by Fulton B. Knight, 27, of Arlington Heights, Ill., was forced off the road, struck an embankment and overturned. No one was injured. Damage to Knight's car was estimated at $250.

Automobiles of Jo Hays, 52, State College, Pa., and Herman W. Hoover, 38, of Camp Hill, sideswiped three and a half miles north of York Springs on the York Springs-Carlisle road at noon on July 19, state police said, causing damage of $125 to the Hays car and $150 to the Hoover automobile.

SHEELY TALKS AT ST. PAUL'S

A challenge to the colored race to fit themselves into the larger purpose of life itself was given to members of St. Paul's AME Zion church at the Sunday morning church services by Judge W. C. Sheely, president judge of the Adams county courts. Judge Sheely spoke in the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. O. Fountain. Music was furnished by the youth choir and ladies trio, under the direction of David F. Jones, organist-director.

Judge Sheely declared that "no person has found life itself or the fullest enjoyment of living until he has discovered the larger purpose which lies behind all of the daily events of life.

"There is a purpose in everyone's life, regardless of his or her position," Judge Sheely said. "We are judged, not by how many talents we have, but by how well we use the particular talents with which we are endowed.

"Our own individual part in life may seem small, but it may be important to the work that someone else is doing, and therefore, no matter what that part may be, it is fitted to the larger part of the full purpose of life."

To Give Comedy At Fairgrounds Aug. 3

The Volunteer Playmakers Guild of Arendtsville will present a three-act comedy, "All Gunned Up," at the Memorial auditorium in the South Mountain Fairgrounds August 3. The play will begin at 8:40 p.m.

The comedy of romance and adventure takes place during World War II against a background of defense, priorities and rubber rationing. The story tells of the difficulties of the Hemmings, who are trying to carry on a family business of making gum drops. Head of the family is the mother, whose main interest is buying expensive but ridiculous hats. The eldest son, manager of the business, is charming but incompetent. The youngest son is an army private.

In attempting to develop a formula for an antiseptic gum that can be chewed while on the way to work as a daily morning mouth wash, with a French chef as the "scientist" working on the formula, the family discovers that it has developed not chewing gum, but a way to make synthetic rubber. Officials from Washington then step into the picture and compound the confusion.

WALTER-MILLER NUPTIALS READ ON SATURDAY

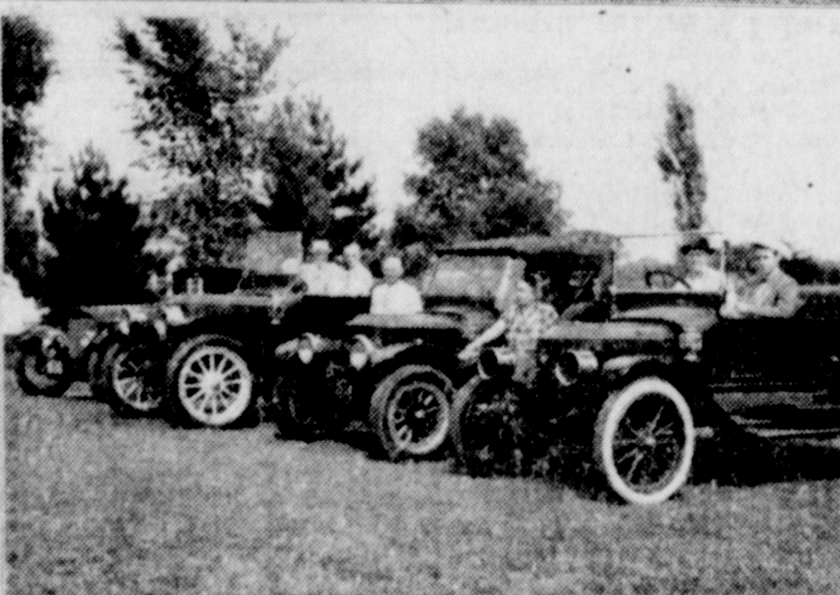

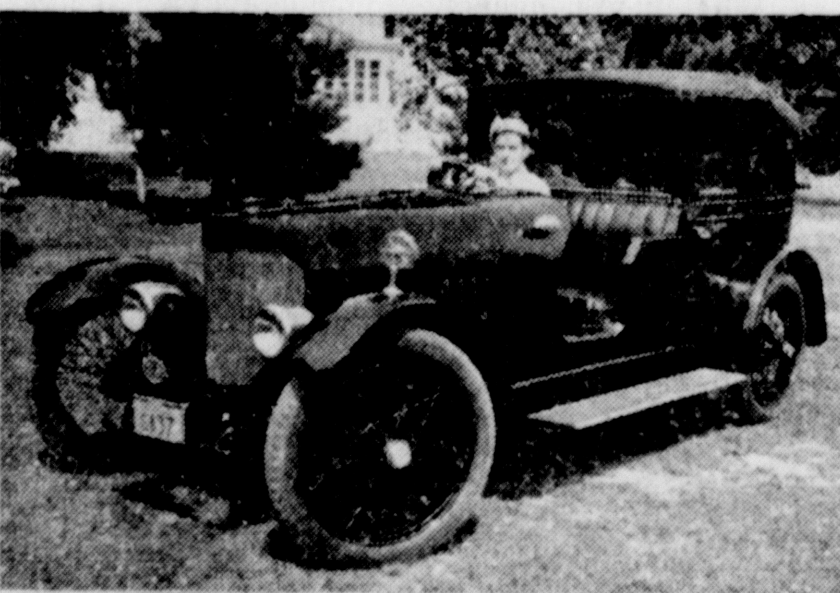

Miss Gertrude Susan Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller, Biglerville R. 2, became the bride of Richard Jay Walter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Giff Walter, also of Biglerville R. 2, at a double ring ceremony held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Trinity Lutheran church, Arendtsville. The Rev. Robert Schiebel, pastor, officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown with lace top and a finger tip veil attached to a tiara. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and white roses.

Reception Is Held
Her maid of honor, a sister, Miss Esie Margaret Miller, wore a gown of green with a floral headress and carried pink and white carnations. The flower girl, a niece of the bride, Bonita Sue Litwin, wore a floor length gown of blue and pink and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses, pink carnations and blue delphiniums. Fred Garretson was best man.

More than 100 attended the reception held at the social rooms of the Arendtsville National bank following the ceremony. A large cake decorated with a bride and groom was a feature of the bride's table for the reception.

The bride is a graduate of Biglerville high school. The bridegroom, a graduate of Gettysburg high school, is associated with his father in farming. Following a wedding (Continued on Page 2)

10 MEMBERS OF FRENCH GROUP KNOUSE GUESTS

Ten members of the French Agricultural Commission, touring the United States to study farming methods and food processing, were guests Saturday of Knouse Foods. The group toured the Orrtanna plant where they observed cherry processing operations.

The visitors also participated in a panel discussion with Knouse Foods' technical director, Dr. James R. Oylor; the production manager, Edward J. Nowicki, Jr.; Orrtanna Plant Superintendent Richard Bradford and Director of Public Relations Maxwell D. Bucklew during which phases of quality control, production and marketing were subjects of comment.

Two representatives of the French Embassy, John Fourcade and Hubert Langier, served as translators for the group, using microphone-head phone equipment similar to that in operation during sessions of the United Nations assemblies. John Hull of the Foreign Relations Commission, Economic Cooperation Administration, together with Mrs. Hull accompanied the group.

11-Year-Old Girl Picks 260 Quarts Of Cherries In 9 Hours

Tiny Clara McDannell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McDannell, Orrtanna R. 1, is proving that an 11-year-old can do an adult's work when it comes to cherry picking. Clara, who will be 12 in October, picked 26 ten-quart buckets of cherries in nine hours last Friday during a regular day's work at the farm of Allen Deardorff, near Cashtown. This is believed to be a record for a youngster of her age.

Throughout the season Miss McDannell has been picking 20 or more buckets of cherries a day. Mr. Deardorff says she is "one of my best workers, in proportion to her size." Clara says that picking cherries is "fun."

She has been working in the Deardorff orchards with four sisters, Ruth, Betty, Louise and Alice McDannell, all older than she, and an aunt, Miss Hazel McDannell.

Mr. Deardorff terms the McDannell group "star cherry pickers, peach thinners and top hands." More than 3,000 persons, many of them youngsters in their teens, have been engaged for the last several weeks in harvesting the county's (Continued on Page 2)

Withdraw Charge Against Rothaupt

A charge of assault and battery filed against Lloyd Rothaupt, Panorama inn, Emmitsburg road, by Julia Anderson, same address, was withdrawn Saturday before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. The costs were paid by the complainant. Rothaupt was arrested by state police of the Gettysburg substation Friday evening on a warrant sworn out by Miss Anderson, who charged that earlier that evening Rothaupt struck and beat her. A hearing had been scheduled for Tuesday.

COUNTY COUPLE OBSERVES 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. William N. Raffensperger celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday afternoon at a reception held at their home in Arendtsville.

The couple was married July 21, 1901, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Washington Bowers, near Biglerville, by the Rev. Upton A. Hankey, then pastor of the Beidersville Lutheran church. Mrs. Raffensperger is the former Elsie R. Bowers. Mr. Raffensperger is a son of the late Mr. and (Continued on Page 2)

Yankees Ready To Resume Cease Fire Negotiations After Talks With General Ridgway In Tokyo

U.N. Advance Headquarters, Korea, July 23 (AP)—Allied negotiators gathered here again today, armed with final U.N. instructions for the resumption of Korean war cease-fire talks in Kaesong Wednesday.

Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief of the five-man United Nations team, flew back from Tokyo tonight after a series of conferences with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. He was accompanied by two other U.N. delegates, Maj. Gen. L. C. Craigie and Rear Adm. Arleigh Burke.

They talked with the supreme Allied commander Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Secret Instructions
The decisions made in Tokyo probably will remain secret until the ninth meeting of negotiators in a Kaesong schoolhouse Wednesday.

The Korean war will be 13 months old Wednesday. Whether it will end soon or flare up anew in bloody fighting hinges on settlement of one vital question: shall the question of withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea be placed on the cease-fire agenda?

The Reds have insisted that the question be debated in full-scale armistice talks, to start when the list of topics for discussion has been adopted.

The United Nations have said it is a political matter to be decided after an armistice.

Fear Deadlock
Wednesday's meeting may produce an unbreakable deadlock, or a compromise that will permit the talks to go on.

The eighth meeting between Allied and Red negotiators ended abruptly Saturday after the Communists requested a recess "to enable both sides to study the proposals thus far presented."

It may be the Reds wanted time to consult Peking and Moscow.

In agreeing to the recess, Joy suggested the conference resume earlier if possible. There has been no indication, however, that it will.

There has been no statement from either side as to what specific items have been agreed upon for the agenda. They probably include an exact time for the shooting to end, exchange of prisoners, creation of a buffer zone, and inspection of behind-the-lines territory by neutral observer teams.

Fly 327 Sorties
Fifth Air Force headquarters reported 327 sorties flown by 6 p.m. Pilots said they destroyed or damaged 63 buildings, 10 vehicles, 18 railroad cars, one fuel dump, five road bridges and one field piece. Highway and rail lines were cut at 17 places.

Marine pilots reported 10 enemy-occupied buildings destroyed near Hwachon, on the central front.

An airfield east of Pyongyang was pounded with 500-pound demolition bombs and direct hits were reported. Southeast of Pyongyang 11 B-29 Superforts dropped 400 tons of bombs on Kiyompo.

Little ground action was reported. The opposing armies probed ahead of their front lines with patrols but there was no major engagement.

COUPLE IS WED IN WASHINGTON

Mrs. Jane Allison DeWolf, 59 York street, Friday became the bride of John J. Bachensky, formerly of Gettysburg, at a ceremony performed by the Rev. Robert Van Doorn, Lutheran minister, at Washington, D.C.

For the service the bride wore a navy blue shantung suit with matching accessories and a corsage of white gardenias and rosebuds. There were no attendants.

Mrs. Bachensky, a daughter of the late William Allison, former superintendent of the Gettysburg National cemetery, and Mrs. Allison, is employed as a clerk-typist at the Gettysburg National military park office here, assuming those duties in February, 1950. She plans to resign her post here effective the end of August.

Mr. Bachensky served as a clerk in the National park office here for about 15 years, and was associated with the national park at Philadelphia for a time before being transferred to the National Park office in Washington where he is assistant procurement officer, assuming those duties two months ago.

The couple plans to move to McLean, Va., about ten miles from Washington, on September 1.

YOUNGSTER INJURED

Beverly Reel, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reel, 265 Buford avenue, was treated at the Warner hospital for a laceration above the left eye. She was injured Saturday when she fell while playing and broke her eye glasses.

ANTIQUE AUTO OWNERS REVEAL HIGHLIGHTS OF THEIR VEHICLES

An elaboration of the identification and description of the five-picture layout on the first page is given below. So much interest is manifest in the antique cars that the slightest item of news about the vehicles affords interesting reading. Drivers of the respective machines furnished this additional information:

John D. Teeter (top left) welcomes some of the first arrivals at the meeting here Saturday and Sunday of the Allegheny Mountain region of the Antique Automobile club of America. Mr. Teeter, standing on the running board of the 1911 Oakland four cylinder touring car, is shown greeting David T. Davis and George R. Gebhart, both of Cumberland.

AACA Directors

At the left center directors of the Allegheny Mountain region are shown standing in front of some of the antique cars at the meeting held at the Gettysburg Country club. The men standing are Ralph Weeks, associate editor of the club's magazine; S. Howard Brown, Grantville, and Earle Eckel, Washington, N. J. Front row, John Teeter, Gettysburg; Leslie R. Henry, Havertown; William E. Swigart, Huntingdon, and T. Clarence Marshall, Sr., Yorklyn, Del. The Teeter family (lower left) is shown in front of three of their Ford's, one a 1914 model T, the second a model A of 1928 design and the third a 1951 model V-8. Mr. and Mrs. Teeter are shown with their daughters, Nancy and Margaret.

A 1916 Scripps-Booth (top right) had all conveniences for the passengers, but the driver had to brave the weather. William E. Swigart, Huntingdon, Pa., is shown in the driver's seat of his Scripps-Booth. The passengers rode in the well protected and luxuriously appointed cab at the rear. Communication with the driver was made through a round opening in the passenger's windshield, which was closed, when not in use, by another piece of glass that could be pushed aside. The opening was behind the driver's head, just about in line with his ear.

Three Steamers

Three automobiles which have never been driven as fast as they can go are shown (lower right) parked beside the Scripps-Booth. The three are Stanley Steamers and no one ever let a Stanley Steamer out full throttle. The steam driven engines simply go faster and faster until the driver loses his nerve, and still have plenty of power in reserve. The Stanley engines, according to the drivers of the cars, have 22 moving parts, compared with thousands in the present day engines.

On the left is a 1912 Stanley with T. Clarence Marshall, Sr., Yorklyn, Del., as the driver and Charles H. Bernard, Kennett Square, as the passenger. In the center is a 1914 Stanley roadster with Earle S. Eckel, Washington, N. J., as the driver accompanied by Mrs. Eckel. The Eckel roadster was traded-in at Mr. Eckel's garage in 1917, when he sold Stanley steamers. He kept the vehicle as a tow truck for a while and later restored it as a pleasure car for himself. On vacations Mr. and Mrs. Eckel drive the roadster with a trailer attached. On the right is a 1914 Stanley touring car. Thomas C. Marshall, Jr., Yorklyn, Del., is behind the wheel and E. S. Wilkins, Newark, Del., is the passenger.

Has 35 Steamers

A one-time dealer, from about 1908, in Stanley steamers, the senior Marshall now owns 35 of the vehicles, all in perfect operating condition. New parts are obtained, he says, by seeing the nearest blacksmith. The Stanleys are driven by a steam pressure of 500 pounds per square inch and burn kerosene oil as fuel, getting 10 to 15 miles per gallon. The cars can carry between 40 and 72 gallons of water and get from 50 to 150 miles on a tank of water. The boiler under the hood of the car has other uses besides powering the vehicle, the Stanley steamer drivers say. When they go to picnics they simply push up the hood and do their cooking on top of the boiler. The two-cylinder steam engine takes 15 minutes to get up steam from a cold position, but once the steam is up the pilot light holds the pressure indefinitely. The boiler is located under the hood at the front and the engine is in front of the rear axle.

150 Persons Attend Deanery Meet Sunday

Members of the Conewago deanery of the NCCW met Sunday afternoon at St. Ignatius parish hall, Buchanan Valley, with approximately 150 present.

During the afternoon, tennis, softball and volleyball, as well as other games were played. Rev. Fr. Louis J. Yeager, pastor of St. Ignatius church, was host.

CLUB TO TAKE TOUR ON FRIDAY

Members of the Adams County Senior Extension club will tour Lancaster county Friday during the annual field trip of the organization.

During the tour the club will visit the New Holland Machine company, the Ephrata Cloisters, the Green Dragon, a market and auction where everything from clothes to cows is sold, and the Landis Valley museum.

The tour is the second to be held by the group. Last year the members visited the Beltsville, Md., experimental station where the U.S. Department of Agriculture carries on many of its experiments in developing new types of animals and plants for farm use.

The group will travel by bus from Cross Keys at 7:30 o'clock Friday morning with each person asked to bring his own lunch. Additional members who wish to make the tour are asked to call Lois Musselman, Orrtanna, before Friday.

Thursday evening the club will hold its regular meeting at the Biglerville grade school auditorium at 8 o'clock with the theme of the session to be "Better International Relationships." Frank Coffelt and William Spicer are the committee in charge of the session.

Persons between the ages of 16 and 35 are invited to join the club, and are asked to attend the meeting in the Biglerville grade school auditorium Thursday, Myles E. Starnier, club editor, said today.

There were 128 guided trips and three buses Saturday and 140 guided trips and five buses Sunday. Saturday's estimated total of visitors was 4,215 and Sunday's 4,630.

The week before the total for Saturday and Sunday was 8,976.

Seaman Walter did not mention the mission or the cargo of the convoy but told of his experiences during the 25-day journey to Greenland via Newfoundland.

According to Walter, it was a cold and icy trip. His ship was the lead ship in the convoy and, being equipped with an ice-cutter, helped break the path for the rest of the ships following in a line.

Walter also tells of many other interesting things, such as having schools of seals follow the ships, going to bed in sunlight, because of the 24-hour daylight in that region, and of seeing icebergs the size of Gettysburg.

Walter enlisted at York in July, 1950. He received his basic training at Great Lakes. He was then stationed at Norfolk, Va.

During the voyage of which Walter writes he was promoted from apprentice seaman to seaman. He has also received the certificate presented to all seamen crossing the Arctic Circle.

He is a graduate of Gettysburg high school in 1950. Before enlisting in the navy he was employed at Gilbert's Food Market, Franklin street.

He is a typist in the captain's office.

TO FACE CODE CHARGE

Luther C. Frey, of Newville R. 1, will be charged with failure to yield the highway as the result of a two-car collision Sunday before noon on Pine road, in Carlisle. State Police said Frey was driving toward Mt. Holly Springs allegedly on the wrong side of the road when his car ran into a sedan driven by Kenneth B. Brandt, Gardners R. D.

COUNTY COUPLE

Mrs. Calvin Raffensperger, of Biglerville.

Following the wedding the couple moved to Waynesboro where Mr. Raffensperger was employed by the Prick company. After five years there they moved to Biglerville where Mr. Raffensperger was engaged as a carpenter for five years.

Retired Fruit Grower

After that he was employed by the D. N. and W. L. Minnich fruit farm near Biglerville, residing there for five years. After purchasing a farm near Arendtsville, Mr. and Mrs. Raffensperger moved there and engaged in fruit growing for 32 years, moving finally to Arendtsville when Mr. Raffensperger retired. He still continues, however, to do some carpenter work.

They have four children, Elmer Raffensperger, who operates the home farm near Arendtsville; Mahlon Raffensperger, Flora Dale; Clair Raffensperger, New Bloomfield, and Mrs. Glenn C. Bream, Seminary avenue. All of the children, the ten grandchildren and one great-grandchild were home for the celebration Saturday.

Guests were present from Altoona, Carlisle, Millersburg, New Bloomfield, Philadelphia and throughout Adams county.

Accepts Position In Westminster

Miss Virginia Troxell, Baltimore street, after serving nine years as instructor in mathematics and guidance at Biglerville high school, have resigned her position to accept a full-time guidance position in the high school at Westminster, Md. No successor has been chosen at Biglerville as yet.

Carl Bernhart, Lancaster, who was graduated from Millersville State Teachers' college this spring, has been elected instructor in metal shop work and mechanical drawing at Biglerville, replacing Malcolm

Other Prize Winners
Fisherman and fish: Mr. Brown and Mr. Swigart, Earle Eckel and Ralph Weeks.
Prizes for children were awarded to "Chip" Morgan, Nancy Wolf and Patty Weaver.

A prize for "car trouble" went to Davis, and a second prize to Wiper. Henry, who lost a windshield wiper. Earle Eckel won the "tall story" contest; Mr. Swigart the prize for the most interesting experience.

Ribbons were awarded by the club to the following:
Oldest four-cylinder car: a 1911 Oakland owned by David T. Davis, Cumberland, Md.

Oldest six-cylinder car: a 1922 Pierce Arrow owned by Dr. Paul Morgan, Tarentum.

Oldest eight-cylinder car: a 1916 Scripps-Booth owned by Mr. Swigart.

Oldest Model T Ford: a 1914 owned by John D. Teeter, Gettysburg.

Most popular car: a 1914 Stanley Steamer owned by Tom Marshall.

Oldest steam car: a 1912 Stanley Steamer owned by T. Clarence Marshall.

Car coming longest distance: Earle Eckel, Washington, N. J.

Most beautifully restored car: John D. Teeter, Gettysburg, a 1928 Model A Ford touring car.

Likes Gettysburg
Stories other than "tall" ones were also told at the meeting at the hotel Saturday night.

T. Clarence Marshall, who has the world's largest collection of steam automobiles at his museum in Yorklyn, Del., more than 30 of them, related a number of interesting stories of the Stanley brothers, twins, who invented and manufactured the famous Stanley Steamer.

"I consider Gettysburg my second home," he said. "I operated a Stanley Steamer over the battlefield here 40 years ago, a Stanley Mountain wagon."

Mr. Marshall said he also operated the first established motor bus line in Delaware with a similar Stanley mountain wagon. He paid tribute to Warren Gilbert, "now 88 years old and still going strong," who was the guide on these "Stanley Steamer battlefield tours."

Mr. Marshall paid further tribute to Fred Mariett of Boston, the first man, he said, to drive an automobile two miles in less than a minute.

All of those present at the dinner were introduced by Mr. Swigart or by Mr. Teeter.

2,000 AACA Members
Mr. Eckels recalled the organization of the Antique Automobile club, which he said now has 2,000 members. Mr. Henry, vice president of the AACA, said the organization has grown from three regional groups in 1949 to 13 at the present time, and complimented the Allegheny Mountain region as "the healthiest of them all."

Mr. Swigart paid tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Teeter as the host and hostess for the mid-summer meeting here. "I don't know where any group ever enjoyed finer hospitality than that shown by the Teeters," he said.

Burgess Weaver recalled the days of the old cars, and said he remembered when the old Gettysburg entry in the Blue Ridge Baseball league traveled by Stanley Steamer.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Mr. Teeter invited the regional group to hold its mid-summer meeting annually in Gettysburg.

The next get-together for the antique car owners will be the 1951 Glidden tour, which will start at Pittsburgh on September 23, and travel by way of Cumberland, Bedford, and Harrisburg to Skytop inn in the Poconos. The Glidden tour originated in 1905 and continued through 1913. It was revived by the Antique Automobile Club of America in 1946. The 1949 tour started at Gettysburg, and ended at Philadelphia, after a tour to Williamsburg, Va.

Couple Marries Here On Saturday

Miss Edna Mary Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Smith, 129 West High street, and David Melvin Glass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Glass, Emmitsburg, were united in marriage Saturday at 2 p.m. at Trinity Evangelical Reformed church by the Rev. Dr. Howard Schley Fox.

Miss Grace McDonald, 129 West High street, was the bridesmaid.

The bride wore a blue gown and her flowers were white carnations. The bridesmaid wore a pink gown and had assorted roses as her flowers.

Mrs. Glass had been employed until recently by the Penn-Ceramic factory, Aspers. Mr. Glass is engaged in farming.

Following a reception in the educational building of the church, the couple left on a wedding trip through the Shenandoah Valley after which they will reside at Emmitsburg.

Boyer who was recalled to the air corps in the spring, Mr. Bernhart is teaching mechanical drawing at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md., this summer. Mr. Bernhart and his wife will move to Biglerville in the fall.

YANKS, INDIANS, BOSTON TIED AT TOP; CHISOX SLIP

By JOE REICHLER

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Cleveland and Boston today were locked in a virtual first-place tie in the American league's gripping pennant race with Chicago's weary White Sox "resting."

A fourth place, two and a half games behind the leaders.

Percentage-wise, the defending champions lead the league. Yesterday's sweep of two games from St. Louis—9-0 and 7-3—boosted them into first place by two percentage points over the deadlocked Indians and Red Sox.

The rampaging Indians made it 22 victories in 27 games and eight out of nine by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics twice, 6-4 and 3-1. The Red Sox stubbornly kept pace with a 10-9 triumph over the Detroit Tigers in 10 innings.

Break Tie Tomorrow

The triple tie (in games behind) should be untangled tomorrow when the Yankees open a 17-game home stand against the Indians. The Red Sox also return home tomorrow for a 19-game stand starting with a night affair against the White Sox.

The skidding White Sox suffered two stunning defeats by Washington yesterday—7-6 and 1-5—as the Senators concluded a sweep of the four-game series. It marked the longest losing skid of the season for Chicago—four straight.

The Brooklyn Dodgers continued to make a runaway race of it in the National league. Trouncing the St. Louis Cardinals, 9-2, for their ninth straight over the Redbirds, the Dodgers increased their margin to 8½ games over second-place New York.

Cincinnati held the Giants to a split of their doubleheader, dropping a 9-8 decision after winning the opener, 7-3. The Chicago Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-7 in 14 innings and led 1-0 after seven innings of the second game of a doubleheader. The nightcap was halted by Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew law. It will be resumed the next time the Cubs come to Philadelphia.

Satchel Faces Yanks

Pittsburgh split with Boston, winning the second game, 5-2, after the Braves had taken the opener, 5-3. Allie Reynolds surrendered only four hits and registered his 11th shutout and sixth shutout for the Yankees in the St. Louis opener. Held hitless for five innings by old Satchel Paige, the Yanks teed off on the fabulous Negro right-hander for three runs in the sixth and added five more in the seventh to route Paige.

Bob Lemon and Steve Gromek of Cleveland each pitched seven-inning games against the A's.

Phil Cavarretta made a successful managerial debut with the Cubs as they eked out their 14-inning victory in Philadelphia. Hank Sauer doubled in the 14th and scored on two outfield flies as Jim Konstanty suffered his eighth setback against four wins.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, July 23 (AP)—Football coaches who have been sounding off against the platoon system lately can get an interesting rebuttal from Cornell's Lefty James. . . . Lefty, of course, has been doing right well with platoons—23 victories and four losses in three seasons. . . . Says James: "Without platoon football the game would lack color, would lack public interest. If they took away free use of players they would set the game back a number of years." . . . Maybe that's what the opposition wants: to set the game back to where it requires only a small fortune to support a team. Lefty didn't go into that angle. . . . His argument is that using specialists results in better football; it gives more students a chance to play and the athletes like it better than the 60-minute stuff. . . . James, in fact, plans to go one step farther this year. In addition to offensive and defensive platoons, kickoff, kick receiving, point-conversion groups, etc., he figures on developing one additional line that can stay on the field and play both offense and defense. . . . But who knows when he can use that bunch.

FRIED CRISP, SOUTHERN STYLE

Except for the names, the following phone conversation between two mid-south football coaches is furnished as a public service as told by a guy who listened to one end. . . . It took place the evening after their teams had met in a spring scrimmage. . . . Bill: "Joe, do you have a boy named Soando over there?" . . . Joe (reflectively): "Soando? No, I don't think I ever heard of him." (He was a 215-pound tackle who had just finished wrecking Joe's team.) . . . Bill: "Well, my boys say they saw him talking to you just before your team got on the bus. I want him back." . . . Joe (surprised): "Oh, Soando. Is he your boy? He came to me and said he wasn't happy at your school and wanted to transfer to our place so I told him to come along." . . . Bill: "You put him right on the next bus and send him back." . . . Joe: "I can't do that, Bill. The guy hasn't any money." . . . Bill: "You got him over there; it's up to you to get him back." . . . P. S.: The lad returned on the next bus and relations between the two schools are all sweetness and light.

CAVARRETTA IS NEW CLUB PILOT

New Rochelle, N. Y., July 23 (AP)—

Frankie Frisch, deposed Chicago manager, said today the Cubs are a first division club despite their present seventh-place standing and wished he had had "more of a chance."

The famous Fordham Flash, who insisted his resignation last Saturday was not prompted by official pressure, promised he would be back in baseball before long. For the present, however, he intends to "take it easy for a while" at his home here.

"I resigned because I knew I was not going to be back next year," Frisch said. "I thought it would be best for all concerned if I were to leave now instead of waiting until the end of the season."

Owner Phil Krigney, who immediately replaced the former star second baseman of the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals with Phil Cavarretta, veteran first baseman and outfielder, refused to comment other than to say:

"Frisch is a great manager on winning teams, but the Cubs haven't been winning. We think Frisch hasn't been getting the spark out of the players that perhaps he might. We think that Cavarretta will get his own great spirit into the team and come through for us."

Cavarretta was told, Wrigley said, that he has been assigned as manager for this season only. "We definitely will replace Phil after the season is over," said the Cubs' owner.

Taneytown kept right at the heels of Fairfield by drubbing Cashtown 11-3 on the former's field.

Littlestown pulled into a tie for third place by upsetting Thurmont 7-2 while McSherrystown was bowing to Emmitsburg 8-3.

Washington, July 23 (AP)—Nickel-a-bottle soda pop soon may be only a memory. The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) today authorized soft drink bottlers to boost their prices to retailers to a top of 96 cents a case. This probably will mean an increase to six cents a bottle at retail on the beverages whose bottlers take full advantage of the new ceiling, the agency said.

Bonneauville at Gettysburg. Hunterstown at Green Springs. Barlow at Greenmount.

Brushtown at Granite.

Free-hitting and scoring games marked South Penn Baseball league games on Sunday as Gettysburg kept alive its hopes for a playoff spot by lacing Barlow here 15-9.

Brushtown's league leaders helped the locals' cause by edging out Green Springs 11-10 on the Brushtown diamond, fighting off late inning rallies to gain the decision. The game was loosely played with a total of 12 errors being committed. Staub collected four hits in as many times at bat to pace the Brushtown attack, one of his hits being a triple. Fissel secured two of Green Springs' six safeties.

Hunterstown kept right at the heels of Brushtown by defeating Granite 5-1 on the winners' field. Clyde Little turned in another fine pitching performance to gain the decision.

Charley Woodward pitched the entire way as Gettysburg downed Barlow. Manager Rogers Herr, Bill Carter and Johnny Little each polled homers for Gettysburg.

A total of 39 runs was scored in the Greenmount-Bonneauville game at Bonneauville, Greenmount taking the decision 21-18. The run total established a new league record for the season.

Six homers were hit during the game. Greenmount scored three runs in the eighth and four in the ninth inning to gain victory. The winners smashed out 26 hits, J. Brennan, G. Kennell and R. Green each getting four.

The final regularly scheduled games will be staged next Sunday. Hunterstown and Green Springs also have a postponement to play.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Several miles of the plank road
from Westminster to Emmittsburg
have been completed, and appear to answer the purpose admirably, it is said.

Doctor J. K. McCurdy Respectfully
informs the inhabitants of HUNTERSTOWN
and its vicinity, that he has permanently
located in the first mentioned place for the practice of medicine.

He may be found at his office,
adjoining Mrs. Frame's, or at his residence at Mr. Abraham King's.

Suicide: On the evening of the 13th inst., Mr. John Hollebaugh, of Union township, put an end to his existence by hanging himself on a tree near his residence. He had been depressed in spirits for some time.

Progress of "Bloomerism"—At a ball in Akron, Ohio, on the 4th inst.,
over sixty of the ladies were dressed in full Bloomer costumes. The Cleveland Plaindealer says the scene was enchanting—long dresses
hitherto held from view all the graceful movements of the lady
dancers—but here all was visible
which related to the "poetry of motion."

At Hagerstown, Joseph P. Clarkson, Esq., Assistant Professor at the College of St. James, (formerly of Gettysburg,) was admitted to practice
as an Attorney at Law and Solicitor in chancery, in Washington County Court.

On Monday in the lower end of the county, two men, residing in Hanover, who were out gunning in a "speer," deliberately shot Mr.
Peter Greenholtz, living near Littlestown, without any provocation.
Some forty or fifty shot entered
his body, though he is not seriously hurt. The two men were arrested and released on bail.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
The Sabbath School of St. James
Lutheran church had a pleasant picnic on Thursday at Spangler's Spring, on Culp's Hill.

Mr. F. S. Ramer, of the Globe
Inn, in this place, intends to build a new brick stable, 30 by 103 feet.
Mr. Perry J. Tawney has the contract for the mason work.

Married: Metz-Bowman.—On the 21st inst., in Fairfield, by William H. Low, Esq., Mr. James Metz to Miss Mary C. Bowman, both of Hamilton township.

Heller-Taylor.—On the 23rd inst.,
by Rev. H. P. Long, Mrs. Hiram A.
Heller, of Butler township, to Miss Annie M., daughter of Mr. Wm.
Taylor, of Menallen township.

Smith-Hughes.—On the 23rd inst.,
in Littlestown, by Rev. John Ault,
Mr. Washington Smith, to Miss
Sallie Hughes, both of this place.

Wagman-Cauffman.—In Fair-
field, on the 20th inst., by A. C.
Musselman, Esq., Mr. Jacob Mussel-
man, of Franklin county, to Miss Amanda Cauffman, of Adams county.

The protracted and unprecedented hot spell was broken on Friday,
and since then the weather has been comparatively pleasant. For full three weeks the thermometer
registered over 90° every day,
sometimes going up to 100° and once up to 103° in the shade—the average probably being about 94°.

No such continued high figures for
as long a period has been known in these parts by the "oldest inhabitant." The hot spell has been remarkable also in the fact that,
notwithstanding the high temperature, vegetation has not suffered.
There have been frequent thunder
storms, with liberal falls of rain,
each succeeding storm leaving the atmosphere hot and sultry as before.
The wheat harvest was earlier than usual by a week or ten days.

On Wednesday, the 19th instant,
Mr. Charles Weaver, of this place,
lost a valuable mare from the effect of the heat. This is the third horse
Mr. Weaver has lost within a short time.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
KINDLINESS

Kindness is one of those old-fashioned virtues, but it has so much to do with the joy and hope of so many of us that we welcome it,
wherever it turns up, as something rare in our lives. It's something like rare perfume, influencing far beyond its immediate distributing station.

We feel a spiritual warmth in the presence of a kindly person. Burdens slip from our shoulders when we come in contact with such a one.
We feel ashamed of our fears and our petty worries that rob us of so much. We hold our head a little higher, and with greater self-respect and confidence. Meeting a kindly person is like the cool, sunny day
after a shower.

All genuinely great people are of a kindly nature. All you have to do to learn this is to read the published lives of world figures. A dazzling reputation may precede a person,
but when that person is met, it is a pleasant surprise to find him or her
just like other people, just like each one of us, kindly and affable. There may be exceptions, but they are only exceptions.

The late Elbert Hubbard wrote a line that I have carried with me for years. He said: "Do the best that you can, and be kind." Simple enough, but if every one of us followed that out this would be a far happier world in which to live.

That familiar story of the Good Samaritan in the Bible is an example of kindness, united to that of sympathy and understanding. The world must have brightened up considerably as that good man approached the unfortunate one, lifted
him to his own beast, and took him
to a place where he could be cared for. Life and the entire world look good to us when we note a kindly act before our eyes. It looks much better to all concerned, however,
when we are a part of that kind-liness.

Kindness is a great healer, too.
I have seen a dog punished and then later reacting to kindness, as though all were forgiven. Kindness can enter into our everyday lives in a marked degree, making them richer and happier. It is beyond all intrinsic value.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Live Deep."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

PRISON INCIDENT
I talked to him through prison bars.
A crime
Had taken from him everything
but time,
And that for years would slowly
tick away,
Nor wind nor weather matter day
by day.

"I had a wife," he said, "and she was ill.
I needed money and I robbed a till.
My sentence, twenty years!
That's quite a spell!
But what are twenty years if she gets well?"

I've often thought — for that was long ago!
A man must deeply love to suffer so.
I've wondered, too, while he was in his cell,
If ever came the word that she was well.

"CAESAR'S WIFE" BILL IS OFFERED AGAIN TO SOLONS

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 23 (AP)—Senator Morse has an idea which is getting nowhere fast. This Oregon Republican has offered Congress the same idea yearly since 1947. It's been chilled to death, regularly.

He suggests Congress pass a law compelling all its members to list
as a public record all their income—
in addition to their congressional pay — and where they got it.

Although a nose gets punched occasionally in Congress, the members otherwise are pretty considerate of one another's feelings and even have rules against name-calling.

Not Above Reproach
Congress digs into other people's money background. But you never hear a member ask one of his fellows if, by any chance, he's plugging something or opposing it because he has a financial interest in the outcome.

Morse calls his proposal, which is in the form of a bill, his "Caesar's wife" bill, meaning that members of Congress, like Caesar's wife,
should be beyond reproach.

Not every member, of course, is always beyond reproach. There have been some sensational recent examples: J. Parnell Thomas, New Jersey Republican, and Andrew J.
May, Kentucky Democrat.

His Proposal
Briefly, this is what Morse suggests:
All members of Congress (their basic salary is $12,500 a year); and all U. S. judges and government employees with salaries of $9,000 a year or more, must fill out every year a statement on:

All their income the preceding year, including fees, salaries, royalties, income from trusts and estates, dividends, or income derived from a law firm or partnership, and the names of the clients; and all dealings in securities or commodities.

In Glass House
Morse recently explained to a Senate committee why he offered
this bill:

"When men and women enter the field of public service they must
just as well face the reality that they have entered a glass house and that they are going to be subject to scrutiny and inspection.

"I think it is much better to have a full disclosure of the sources and amounts of one's income when he is in public service as a matter of public record than to have our system of government and our public servants whittled away at by smear
campaigns, smear attacks, and vicious rumors about what and who influenced their position on various issues because of economic considerations."

News About Your Home Gardens

Fall Vegetable Crop Is Finest Of Whole Season

Before sowing vegetables for a fall harvest after June 1, check up on the average date of the first killing frost in your neighborhood. Then count the days it will take to mature
the varieties you have chosen, to make sure they can produce a harvest before the freeze-up.

The short harvest crops, which must be planted several times in order to give an all-season yield, are usually listed in early, midseason
and late varieties. For late sowing,
early varieties should be used, since
they mature more quickly.

Beans, beets, carrots, endive and cucumbers, will all do well from summer sowing. Vegetable crops which should not be sown in June
include peas, early radishes, lettuce and spinach. All these require cool weather, and you may sow very early kinds in August, so they will mature
in the autumn.

The best harvest from the vegetable garden comes in the fall, when the days are short and the nights cool. Then some subjects difficult to grow well in the spring become easy;
and with all vegetables the harvest
is prolonged.

This is because none of the plants

is in a hurry to make seeds. In the spring all the annual vegetables,
those which complete their life cycle
in one season, are seemingly intent
upon seed production, and in the case of the leaf and root crops, when seed bearing begins, quality is so impaired that the harvest ends.

Conspicuous examples of this are cauliflower and Chinese cabbage.
The first can seldom be matured by
the amateur in spring, and the second is difficult. But both can be grown with ease in the fall, and should be.

Brussel sprouts and kale are at their best in the fall. Endive not only grows well in cold weather, but its flavor is greatly improved by frost. Spinach, which bolts to seed
with the first warm days of summer, no longer shows this tendency
when grown in the fall, but gives a long harvest of top quality.

Root crops also like the fall
weather, but to enjoy the highest quality summer sowings should be made so that new crops of beets,
carrots and turnips will reach maturity in the early fall. This is an excellent time to have the canning
and freezing crops available.

August-Planted Strawberries

Well rooted strawberry plants may be set out safely any time from spring until early fall if soil moisture conditions are favorable. In scattered gardening sections of the East commercial growers set out plants in August for the purpose of producing unusually large berries
the following spring. This cultural fact offers a useful key to home
gardeners who plan to start a small plantation.

Stressing the importance that
plenty of soil moisture is necessary
to carry August-set strawberry plants through their dormant season, prospective growers should be ready to practice irrigation whenever the soil is dry, even up until late fall. This need not, however, be seen as a burdensome task for small growers because moisture may be adequately supplied simply by allowing water to run in furrows beside the rows. If no other means is available, barrels or other large containers may be set at distances of six to ten feet between every other row and filled with water in the evening. With a small "leak" made in the bottom of each container,
water will trickle out and seep into
the soil during the night.

August planting also demands
more than ordinary types of plants.
They should be vigorously rooted,
with large, strong tops of many leaves.

The soil must be fertile and abundantly supplied with organic matter. Well rotted manure is usually indispensable in this role unless
the soil is already naturally deep and rich.

Plants should be set closer than advised for spring planting. Commercial growers who practice August planting generally prefer the two-row system—two rows 7 to 8 inches apart, with plants set 6 inches apart in the rows, preferably staggered. From 3½ to 4 feet is allowed from center to center of these dual rows.

If the plants are kept liberally
watered until late fall, they should be sufficiently rooted to withstand normal winter rigors. However, winter mulching is here even more important than it is for spring-planted strawberries. Many growers apply
a mulch of well rotted, strawy manure between the rows immediately
after planting, following this with a protective winter mulch of wheat straw or marsh hay applied directly
over the rows about the first week
in December.

factors influence the first spring
crop.

Gardeners with foresight may grow their own plants for August planting by rooting runners in individual pots sunk in the soil beside old plants. This should be done in the spring so the runner may be severed as soon as the roots are well
started. By August these potted specimens are sturdy and may then
be moved to their new growing place
without disturbing the roots.

The editor invites all questions
readers wish to ask on this timely and important subject.

SIMPLE STEPS WITH PANSIES

Few flower growers ever have too many pansies. They often restrict themselves on this score by buying rooted plants instead of growing their own from seed. It is to suggest the important but simple steps of culture from seed that these suggestions are offered.

Two outstanding facts should be emphasized in approaching the task of growing pansy plants. First, the seed should be fresh. Next, seed should be sown in late July or early August so seedlings will develop sturdy growth before winter. When a few secondary facts are added to these, even beginners have the basic schedule for growing all the pansies
they desire.

Cheap pansy seed is usually worthless because it is old. In all cases growers should purchase seed from a reputable source, such as any of the well known seed and nursery concerns.

Bed soil should be light, well drained and finely prepared. High quality seed is usually wasted if seeded in coarse, heavy or boggy bed soils. It is advisable to prepare the bed where it can be shaded with muslin, doubled cheesecloth or slats.
A vertical muslin or cheesecloth
shade along the south side is the most beneficial form of shade. After the soil is carefully prepared it should be watered to settle it. After the surface is dry it should be pulverized to break up the crust. Then sowing seed is in order.

Seed should be sown evenly and the surface lightly covered with sifted sand or sandy soil. Then the soil should be gently pressed with a board, block or the back of a spade.
Raking may cover seed so deep that germination will be prevented. Cover the bed surface with paper and keep the soil moist but not wet until germination starts. Then remove the paper at once. On the subject of moisture it is important to avoid both extremes. Excessive moisture
may cause seeds to rot or seedlings
to fall; but even a few hours of dryness may likewise kill the tender seedlings.

When three or four leaves open,
plants should be moved to their permanent growing place or a sunny bed for wintering. In either case the bed soil should be made ready two weeks before transplanting time by turning under and working uniformly through the soil well weathered
and finely pulverized cattle manure
gathered from a summer pasture
where it has dried thoroughly in the sun. A few handfuls of 4-12-4 fertilizer may be worked through
the top three inches of bed soil.

Space plants about 5 or 6 inches
apart in rows 6 to 10 inches wide.
Firm soil well around them and water to settle the soil and keep the bed moist. Here again both extremes of moisture should be avoided.

Winter mulching is advisable. But the mulch should be light and airy, not heavy or sodden. Marsh hay is ideal in this role. But of course,
winter mulch should not be applied
until the bed is frozen. On this point it is necessary to remember that mulching is practiced to keep the ground frozen, not to prevent its freezing. The covering should be removed in late March.

Neighbors may profitably and helpfully cooperate in growing perennial plants, one growing the neighborhood supply of pansy seedlings, others individually growing delphiniums, columbines, campanu-
las, Forget-me-nots, asperulas, platycodons, digitalis and several other perennials which permit seeding in late summer.

"Our Town" Opens At Allenberry Tonight

Allenberry Playhouse at Boiling Springs will bring Thornton Wilder's sentimental hit, "Our Town," to the stage for a week starting tonight.
Guest star Catherine Meikle from Harrisburg will share top honors
with David Brubaker and Madelyn
Mecklem of the Allenberry troupe.
Featuring one of the largest casts
in Allenberry history, "Our Town"
was originally written for production
on a bare stage, with no scenery, but the Allenberry presentation will feature impressionistic projected backgrounds designed by Marjorie Green Brubaker.

"Our Town" is an episodic drama
that won the coveted Pulitzer prize
for its author in 1938. It will mark Miss Meikle's second performance
this season at Allenberry Playhouse.
She was seen in the leading role of "The Man" two weeks ago.

Hazen Gifford, who has appeared in every Allenberry production this season, will also have one of the leading roles. He will be joined by virtually all of the Allenberry company, including Robert Gibbons,
Charles Randall, Sylvia Hammer and John Himes. Himes is well known in the York area as a radio personality
and for his activity in the York
Community theatre.

300 AT MUSIC FESTIVAL AT LITTLESTOWN

Approximately 300 were in attendance at the second annual community music festival held on Sunday evening on Littlestown Memorial field. The affair was sponsored by the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce, assisted by the Littlestown High School Athletic association.

The program, which received favorable comment from all present, opened with "The Star Spangled Banner," played by the local high school band, under the direction of Paul A. Harner. Opening remarks were made by Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Littlestown Joint School system. Mr. King extended a welcome to the guests and congratulated the Jaycees upon their "successful and entertaining" project. Donald Z. Mann, president of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, was introduced by Mr. King and he thanked the advertisers, patrons, sponsors, guests and Jaycees for helping to make the musical a success. Mr. Mann presented H. Vernon Ferster, Hanover, immediate past president of the state Jaycees, who spoke briefly congratulating the organization upon its rapid growth since its beginning a few years ago when he was extension chairman of the Hanover Jaycees and helped organize the Littlestown group.

Mack Edwards, announcer and program director of WHVR, Hanover, served as master of ceremonies for the first half of the program. Mr. Edwards was master of ceremonies for the entire music festival last summer. Mr. Harner conducted the Littlestown high school band, playing the "Town Crier Overture" followed by "The United Nations March," featuring the five baton twirlers of the L. H. S. band, Joan Shull, Irene Hankey, Nancy Kershner, Jean Koonitz and Shirley Brown. The Junior high school chorus, under the direction of Mrs. William Wilt, sang "Mexican Clap Hands Dance," accompanied on the piano by Ferree LeFevre. The Littlestown Senior high school chorus appeared singing "Give Me Your Tired and Your Poor" based on the inscription on the Statue of Liberty. Miss Lois Ann Peeser was piano accompanist for this number which was directed by Mrs. Wilt. The three musical groups, the band and both the Junior and Senior high school choruses did the selection "Joshua Fit de Battle of Jericho."

Men's Chorus Sings
The first portion of the program closed with the band playing the "Thumbs Up March," featuring the first appearance of Miss Joan Shull with the fire baton. Miss Shull is drum majorette for the VFW Drum and Bugle Corps of Post No. 6954 and conducts several classes for baton twirling.

Al Ross, of radio station WBAL and WBAL-TV, Baltimore, served as master of ceremonies for the second half of the program. Mr. Ross, who is well known for his early morning show over the Baltimore station and who served as "emcee" for the barbershop contests sponsored by the Upper Adams County Lions club at the South Mountain Fairgrounds, was introduced by Mr. Mann. The "Papermakers" quartet from Spring Grove, that won first place in the 1951 contest sponsored by the Upper Adams Lions, sang "An Old Fashioned Medley," "Yonna from Arizona" and "Shine on Me," a spiritual.

The Littlestown Men's chorus then appeared under the direction of L. Robert Snyder. The chorus was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Elizabeth Sell and Ferree LeFevre. The men sang "Pennsylvania," "I've Got You under My Skin" by Cole Porter, and "Younger Than Springtime," featuring Patsy Crouse and Stewart N. Long as soloists. Vocal duets were then sung by Mrs. Crouse and Mr. Long, with Mrs. Sell as accompanist. They sang "The Loveliest Night of the Year," "Too Young" and "Will You Remember," from "Maytime" by Sigmund Romberg.

Check For $1,000
The "Papermakers" appeared again and rendered the following selections: "Little Liza," "I Wonder How The Old Folks Are Back Home," and as an encore, "The Halls of Ivy." The chorus was recalled to the stage and offered, "O! Man River" by Jerome Kern, and "You'll Never Walk Alone," a Fred Waring arrangement, featuring Mrs. Sell at the piano for the solo parts.

The musical was held for the benefit of Littlestown Memorial field and one hundred percent of the total receipts was given to the Littlestown High School Athletic association to reduce the debt on the field. A check for $1,000 was presented by President Mann to George H. Ditlow, president of the association. All funds that remain to be turned in from the concessions stand will be given to the association for the same purpose. Mr. Ditlow received the check and thanked the Paycees for their gratitude. The festival held last summer was also for the benefit of the field, which is used by both community groups such as the sponsoring organization and the high school. The program closed with the Men's Chorus singing "The Lord's Prayer," with Stewart N. Long, as tenor soloist. The affair was presented on the athletic field under the lights. A band shell had been erected and the stage was attractively decorated with palms, ferns and cut flowers. Both the American flag and the Littlestown high school flag were placed on the stage. Refreshments were on sale by members of the Jaycees.

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)
Hagerstown's Interstate league lead melted to four games today after the Braves absorbed a pair of defeats over the week-end at the hand of rapidly improving Wilmington.

The Blue Rocks exploded for four runs twice last night to down the Braves, 8-5, after scoring a 13 to 6 victory Saturday.

Allentown's second place Cardinals picked up two games on the league leaders by downing Harrisburg on Saturday and Sunday, winning 1-0 and 4-2.

In other games yesterday, fourth place Lancaster bowed to Sunbury, 4-0, while the cellar dwelling Salisbury Indians defeated York, 2 to 1. Saturday, Salisbury divided a pair with York, winning 4-3 and losing by an identical score. Lancaster edged Sunbury, 5-4, Saturday.

The Blue Rocks moved to within six and one-half games of first place by winning yesterday, although three pitchers were required to halt the Braves, who outthit the Rocks.

13 to 11.

Big Carl Maloney, righthanded ace of the Sunbury Giants, limited Lancaster to four safeties as he faced only 32 batters in posting his 14th victory of the season. The tri-

ADM. SHERMAN, U. S. NAVY BOSS SINCE '49, DIES

Naples, Italy, July 23 (AP)—The top U. S. Naval commander, Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, died yesterday at a Naples hotel after suffering two heart attacks. He was 54.

The body of the chief of naval operations was immediately removed to a U. S. warship in Naples bay.

Sherman, boss of the U. S. Navy since 1949, had just completed a tour of Europe's Atlantic pact defense area. He had also made a visit to Generalissimo Francisco Franco during which he was believed to have reached a tentative agreement for American use of Spanish naval and air bases.

Carney May Succeed Him
A message from President Truman said the "country's loss is great" and Secretary of State Dean Acheson hailed the naval member of the joint chiefs of staff as "a statesman who saw beyond the military problems to the objectives of national policy."

Mrs. Sherman, who was at her husband's bedside when he died, left last night for the United States by special plane.

The admiral's body was placed aboard the U. S. M. Olympus. It is expected to be flown home shortly for burial.

Also at the deathbed was Adm. Robert B. Carney, American commander of Allied forces in southern Europe, who is being mentioned as a possible successor to Sherman. Adm. L. D. McCormick, vice chief of naval operations, will take over Sherman's job until President Truman fills the post.

Was Youngest Chief

Sherman replaced Adm. Louis Denfeld as navy chief in the bitter squabble over unification of the army, navy and air force. A brilliant "flying admiral," he was jumped over the heads of nine senior officers to become the youngest chief of operations in the navy's history. Although some of his fellow officers were critical when he took the post after President Truman fired Denfeld, Sherman's leadership won him the confidence and devotion of the whole navy. Flags on all ships and stations were dropped to half-staff when news of his death was flashed to the fleet.

The admiral arrived here Saturday after talks in Madrid, Paris and London. Newsmen who talked with him said he appeared in good health, but looked tired. Navy officers said he had not slept well dur-

New Moderator, Brethren Church

Johnstown, Pa., July 23 (AP)—The Rev. N. V. Leathern, of Johnstown, is the new moderator of the Pennsylvania District conference of the Brethren church. He succeeds the Rev. W. B. Brant, of Vinco.

The conference, which includes Pennsylvania and parts of New Jersey and West Virginia, chose the Rev. A. R. Baer, of Cameron, W. Va., as vice moderator; Floyd Benshoff, of Johnstown, secretary, and John H. Glessner, of Berlin, treasurer.

DOUBLE FEATURE

Pittsburgh, July 23 (AP)—Guns blazed on the screen of the Kenmore drive-in theater near Pittsburgh last night as the patrons watched "Winchester 73." But they were unaware that gunplay was figuring in another little drama at the same time. A raincoat-clad man walked up to cashier Dolores Baronti, brandished a revolver and fled with $600 in cash.

ing the night flight from London.

Admiral and Mrs. Sherman dined Saturday night at Pompeii and afterwards attended an open air opera performance in the amphitheater of that ancient Roman city ruined almost 2,000 years ago by a volcanic explosion.

Second Attack Fatal

The first heart attack struck shortly after he awoke Sunday morning. A navy medical officer and a Naples doctor were called and Sherman seemed to rally. A second attack occurred just after noon and the admiral succumbed.

Sherman, a descendant of John and Priscilla Alden, is survived by a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, the wife of Lt. Cmdr. John Fitzpatrick, formerly assistant naval attache in Madrid.

Admiral's Last News Conference

Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, U. S. chief of naval operations, smiles as he talks to newsmen during a news conference—his last—in Naples, Italy, Saturday. Sherman, 54, on tour of Europe's Atlantic Pact defense area, died July 22 of a heart attack shortly before he was scheduled to start back to the U. S. This is one of the last pictures made of Sherman who became the navy's top man at 53, youngest ever to hold the post. (Picture by radio from London)

Lancaster, Pa., July 23 (AP)—A two-year-old girl drowned in the Susquehanna river near here yesterday but four other members of a Reading family were rescued when their rowboat overturned. The victim was Lyndell Sweimer. Her parents, the Earl Sweimers, her brother, Earl, 5, and her half-sister, Jean, 13, were saved by three men who were fishing nearby.

When lesser cars look for mechanics-- your Packard is just broken in!

As the mileage indicator climbs to the higher brackets, most car owners do one of two things. Either trade in their cars, or spend plenty on overhaul.

But not you!

When that chunk of mileage has rolled under your wheels, chances are your Packard is still rolling along as sweetly, as steadily as the day you took title. That's a pretty light-hearted feeling to have these days.

For an important example of what we mean, take an inside look at a Packard Thunderbolt engine. You probably already know it's the highest compression eight in America. But what you may not know is that there are up to 25% fewer working parts than in engines of comparable power!

Simplicity of design, plus traditional Packard precision engineering and workmanship, have won for Packard the greatest durability record in the automotive industry. (Fact: of all the Packards built in the last 52 years, over 50% are still in service!) And durability—high mileage, trouble-free durability—should be one of your most important considerations when buying a car today.

Let your Packard dealer show you how this brand of long-haul-engineering is carried out from stem to stern, road to roof, in every motor car that carries the name, Packard.

We'll wager the all-new 1951 Packard will be the car you wanted all along!

UNION ASKS $18 A DAY PAY WITH PENSIONS

New York, July 23 (AP)—Dock workers in Atlantic coast ports have voted to seek a guarantee of a full day's pay whenever they work.

The workers also voted to ask at forthcoming contract negotiations a minimum pay of $18 for a day's work instead of the current $16 minimum.

The action came last night at a convention of the Atlantic coast district of the AFL International Longshoremen's association.

The workers voted to seek a single daily "shapeup," which is the traditional waterfront method of hiring.

Longshoremen hang around the docks and twice each day, at 8 a.m. and 1 p.m., are singled out for work.

Ask More Pensions

Thus they are guaranteed four hours' work.

A single "shapeup" in the morning would, in effect, substitute a guarantee of eight hours work instead of four for those singled out.

The convention also instructed the longshoremen's wage scale committee to seek $60 monthly pensions instead of the present $35.

The committee is scheduled to open contract talks next month with the New York Shipping association, a group of shipping and stevedoring firms.

Agreements with the New York Shipping association normally set a pattern for Atlantic coast companies from Hampton Roads, Va., to Nova Scotia, employing about 40,000 longshoremen.

At its meeting yesterday, the Atlantic district also reelected Joseph P. Ryan as district president.

Ryan has held the job since 1918 and is referred to by the organization as its "life president."

Ryan also is president of the parent union, which opens its own five-day convention here on Monday.

Philadelphia, July 23 (AP)—A Reading sports fan died yesterday in Jefferson hospital after collapsing on a city street. Police said John Symons, 40, was taken to the hospital by a motorist. They said he told hospital attendants he had come to Philadelphia to see the Phillies-Chicago doubleheader and had left Shibe Park when he felt ill.

Littlestown

DR. SPANGLER'S COTTAGE BURNS; LOSS IS $2,000

The summer cottage owned by Dr.

Chester A. Spangler, situated along a small creek in the grove at the rear of the farm homes and buildings, about one and one-half miles northwest of Littlestown, was destroyed by fire on Saturday afternoon.

Alpha Fire company No. 1 was summoned about 5 o'clock and answered the call with two trucks.

The blaze started from a defective chimney. The estimated value of the cottage was $1,500 and the furnishings were valued at $500. There was no insurance to cover the total loss of $2,000.

Water to fight the blaze was drawn from the truck booster tanks, the high pressure system was used and water from the creek was secured from two lines of one and one-half inch hose, according to a report given by Fire Chief Glenn E. Ohler.

The standing of the teams in the Littlestown Softball league is now: Eagles, won six, lost one; Mystic Chain, won four, lost three; Redeemer's, won three, lost six; Harry's, won two, lost five. In this week's schedule the games will be as follows: Monday evening, Harry's versus the Eagles; Tuesday evening, Redeemer's versus the Eagles and on Thursday evening the Mystic Chain will oppose Harry's.

The Monday evening feature will be a rained out game scheduled for last week and the Tuesday evening game was previously announced for Wednesday. All games will take place at 6:30 o'clock on the Littlestown playground.

The Abigail Kammerer Missionary society of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will hold its July meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Charles E. Ritter, South Queen street.

Mrs. George Schaeffer will be the leader for the topic discussion. Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold its semi-monthly meeting Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the post home, West King street.

The members of the Littlestown Rotary club will attend a big league baseball game in Washington, D. C., on Tuesday night. Cars will leave from Schottie's hotel, South Queen street, at 6 o'clock that evening.

A round table meeting will be held for those not planning to attend. The meeting will take place at Schottie's at 6:15 o'clock, with the Fellowship and Attendance Committee, composed of A. W. Schott, chairman, Mervin Harner, Roy D. Knouse and Richard A. Little, Sr., in charge.

The July meeting of the Borough Council will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the office of the borough secretary, Roger J. Keefe, South Queen street.

The Council of St. John's Lutheran church will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, at the church.

The auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the aerie home, West King street. It is hoped that all those interested in becoming members of the auxiliary will be present, as the charter for organization will close on July 30.

Hold Funeral Services

The young people of St. Mary's Evangelical and Reformed church, Silver Run, will meet on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, on the parsonage lawn.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon for M. Lynn Smith, 59, of Walkersville, Md., who died Thursday afternoon at 1:55 o'clock at the Frederick Memorial hospital, from the J. W. Little and Son funeral home, Littlestown, at 2 o'clock.

The Rev. Trago Lloyd, Catonsville, Md., officiated. Interment was in Frederick Memorial Park. Serving as pallbearers were Cramer Powell, Bruce Fogel, Lawrence Dorsey, Roger Kling, Frank Nicodemus and Nelson Stauffer.

Burial services for Earl C. Keith, 48, of 209 South Street, Hanover, who died following a stroke on Wednesday evening at 11:45 o'clock, at the Hanover hospital, were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the J. W. Little and Son funeral home, Littlestown. The Rev. Victor A. Carlson, assistant pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Hanover, officiated. Burial was in Mt. Olivet cemetery. Hanover. Serving as pallbearers were George Yealy, Jr., Harry Wolfe,

Walter Little, Ross Stewart, Ralph Wallick and Earl Woods.

Plenic Committee Meets

"Good News" was the theme of the sermon delivered by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church, at the Sunday morning worship service. A vocal duet, "My Task," was sung by Miss Marie Basehoar and Ferree LeFevre, accompanied by Miss Shirley Gobrecht, church organist. Flowers had been placed in the altar vases in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Crouse, by the family.

During the Sunday worship service at Redeemer's, the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Reynolds, baptized William John Evans, III, infant son of Clayton L. and Mae Davidson Evans, Prince street extended. The paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Evans, of Plymouth, Pa., were the baptismal sponsors. The child was born March 10 at the Warner hospital.

Following the morning worship service at Christ Evangelical and Reformed church, a meeting of the supper committee for the annual public picnic sponsored by the Sunday school on Saturday, August 4, was held to further plans for the affair. The committee is composed of Harvey W. Schwartz, chairman, Harry C. Wildasin, Joseph T. Bollinger, W. Raymond Warner, LeRoy W. Berwager, Roy A. Sterner, Reynold Ridinger, Clyde L. Sterner, Stanley R. Sell, David S. Markle, Mrs. Edwin A. Robert, Mrs. Ralph I. Unger, Mrs. Curvin C. Carbaugh, Mrs. Stanley R. Sell, Mrs. Roy A. Sterner, members of the King's Daughters Sunday school class and the Ladies Bible class. The picnic will be held in the church grove. It was decided to serve roast chicken and cold ham with fresh vegetables. Serving will begin at 4 o'clock that afternoon, in the parish house.

Peggy Joann Ampsacher, daughter of Edwin N. and Ella L. Lemmon Ampsacher, Brodbeck, R. 1, was baptized during the Sunday morning worship service at Christ church, by the pastor, the Rev. G. Howard Koons. The child was born June 28, 1950, and the parents were the baptismal sponsors. Mr. and Mrs. Ampsacher were received into the Christ church membership through profession of faith, prior to the baptismal ceremony.
